which is an artistic creation of 9 paintings in memory of the 9 lives tragically lost in the Mother Emanuel AME Church fatal shootings in June 2015 in Charleston, SC. The 9-painting series was created by Artist-Educator and South Carolina artist Dr. Leo Twiggs of SC State University. Twiggs' art focuses on the deep racial issues of SC; this series takes the view from tragedy to redemption as he cites the losses yet also the lowering and removal of the Confederate flag at the State capital there.

The presentation is a part of Sunday Church Art & Fellowship Day at the Mint Museum Randolph - 2730 Randolph Road, Charlotte, NC 28205.

All are invited to the choir's presentation and to view the exhibition on that Sunday in which admission will be free and open to the public.
